The assemblage has Sunday living here all alone, aumbered over 630, and they included all for month ago, when the proprietor of the seestble grades employed to the drapery and utilitiery business. The whole of the entrance hall, the beautiful marble statrease, and the organ gallery were devoted to their accommodation; while the great picture gallery, with its famous Murilles and wealth of art treasures, was thrown open. The musical programme was arranged by the Duchess, with Mr. A. Healey Foster presiding at the organ, and the performers included Signor which was refused by the jury of the Internalonal Art Exhibition in Berlin, has been bought by the Emperor. Frau Perlaghy's portrait of Windthorst, in last year's exhibition, was universally admired, and caused er to be considered one of the first of portrait painters in Germany. Art critics are by no means satisfied with the verdice of the jury. Many povelties in the way of gloves are to be found just now. Duck's-foot yellow is the newest shade employed for gants, and it is exceedingly pretty and in perfect taste when wern to conjunction with gray. These gloves are made either with black or with self-col-ored stitching. As a rule this season the latter predominates. Some substantial gloves tan color, with the under part of the hand and the flogers in brown leather. The Beaver-Nantwich glove, which is thoroughly waterproof, can only be had at Town Hall for the Pables' shirts to keep herself looking well; and of in tan shades. Another specialty is these six, four will have to be at the laundry the bat's wing gauntlet, so called because chevrette gloves are both capital wearing ones. The latter are not dyed at all; in technical parlance, they are "plunged." For evening wear there are some exquisite Suedes in pale beliotrope, pale pink and lemon Duck's-egg green is another new shade in kid and it retains its freshness remarkably well and cleans perfectly.
